The European Recovered Paper Council (ERPC)

The European Recovered Paper Council (ERPC) was set up after the launch of The European Declaration on Paper Recovery in November 2000 with the aim to monitor the progress made towards meeting the targets set out in the European Declaration.

The ERPC consists of the Confederation of European Paper Industries (CEPI), the European Recovered Paper Association (ERPA) and the European Federation of Corrugated Manufacturers (FEFCO) as its Signatories. In addition it also has Supporters, which include the European Federation of Waste Management and Environmental Services (FEAD), the European Paper Merchants Association (EUGROPA) and the International Confederation for Printing and Allied Industries (INTERGRAF) as well as the European Commission Directorates General Enterprise and Environment, who act as Observers.

In the European Declaration the industry pledges to take actions to further improve its environmental performance and increase the recycling rate to 56% by 2005. This increase means that the industry should recycle an additional 10 million tonnes of recovered paper compared to years prior to the European Declaration.

The ERPC monitors the progress of the European Declaration openly and transparently and co-ordinates the joint work to achieve the set targets.

For further information on the ERPC and its work, please consult its website www.paperrecovery.org, or contact the ERPC secretariat, Mr Esa Hyvärinen, on tel +32 2 627 49 28, or email: e.hyvarinen@cepi.org
